

“ It is important to consider a range of treatment options outside of simply prescribing paracetamol, and a holistic approach is absolutely necessary ”

- Dr Rod Hughes, Over-the-counter options for osteoarthritis joint pain. Reviewing the latest evidence.

Our new product, RosaLipid™, derived from wild-crafted rosehip berries, is an exciting new option for natural osteoarthritis treatment.

This extract is rich in galactolipids, one in particular referred to as GOPO, which has shown to be effective for pain relief, increased joint mobility and as an anti-inflammatory.

In epidemiology, half of the world's population aged 65 years or older has OA, which is the most prevalent disorder of articulating joints in humans.

RosaLipid™ which is rich in the galactolipid GOPO, is a natural and effective ingredient that has the power to make a real difference to the quality of life of OA sufferers.

RosaLipid™

RosaLipid™ is the powdered fruit and lipid components of the whole Rosehip combined into a valuable medicinal complex. We understand that nature packages nutrients in their perfect ratio and seeks to mimic that perfect balance in preparing the RosaLipid™ 4:1 complex. In this way bioavailability is maximised and the complex delivers its medicinal phytochemicals in their most active form.
